

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of partisan politics being practiced by an organization that is restricted from doing so by federal election law.

To air one-sided political smear pieces two weeks before the election is despicable, and is yet another example of Sinclair Broadcasting's willingness to sink to new lows to support the candidate of their choice regardless of ethical or legal limits.